

Establishing the EcoTeam

EcoTeams are the driving force of the EcoSchools program. The first step toward becoming an EcoSchool involves forming your own EcoTeam or environmental club. Your team should represent your whole school community.

Our most successful teams have at least one teacher advisor (large schools need more!), a caretaker's involvement, administrative support, students from both junior and senior grades, and parents.

EcoTeam Mind Map: Deep down everybody cares about the environment, and in order to establish the EcoTeam you may want to first brainstorm who the key members are. Fill in the boxes with the names of people whose support is essential when implementing environmental initiatives at your school.
