Curriculum Leader: Anna Gemmiti

Subway II provides students with the opportunity to work individually with their teachers. Students are offered more flexibility in terms of setting their own schedules while adhering to the expectations on an individualized programme. Subway Academy II would best suit mature, independent, and self-driven students.

Subway II's equitable environment is open, inclusive and welcoming. We encourage an atmosphere that is conducive to work. The independent nature of our school requires students to be motivated, and to possess excellent reading and writing skills. We offer: English, Mathematics, Art, and Social Sciences and Humanities.

I will be successful because I have....

- strong reading and writing skills - good organization, time management, study, concentration and coping strategies - a solid work ethic and dependable work habits - discipline, willpower, initiative and motivation - self-knowledge and do actively communicate my needs

More Information about Subway Academy II

Is this the opportunity for me...

Students receive individual attention from demanding yet understanding teachers, and they learn in a place where they can just be themselves. They know what independence really means: in the end, it is up to you to take control, and to make the most of your opportunities. The mandate of Subway Academy II is to give you that chance.

Flexible schedules...

Student schedules are assigned but can be adjusted in consultation with teachers. However, students must attend events/speakers/field trips that are not on their scheduled days.

Student Life - Where You Belong

"One should guard against preaching to young people success in the customary form as the main aim in life. The most important motive for work in school and in life is pleasure in work, pleasure in its result, and the knowledge of the value of the result to the community."

Albert Einstein

We recognize you may have many responsibilities beyond school. We can help you succeed by accommodating your sports, acting and modelling career or work, family and school demands. We complement your studies with interesting guest speakers discussing subjects that are important to you. Previous workshops included Patrick Reed, director of the documentary Triage; People with Aids Foundation, and medical science students from the University of Toronto just to name a few.

Our students are keenly involved in social justice issues. Our communal, open learning area inspires dynamic discussions and close friendships. We celebrate Equity Week, Subway II Reads and Our Docs. Join our students in acts of kindness as they raise money for worthwhile causes and to help our own student community with clothing and food.

What Sets Us Apart

Boundaries disappear when you walk into our school. We are an individualized study programme school with dedicated teachers who meet with you one-on-one a minimum of three days a week. Extra help is available at all times.

We help you develop the study and time management skills you need for your future. We build a custom course schedule designed to help you achieve your goals. We bring new meaning to teacher availability. There is no staff room; we all work, learn and eat together.

TDSB - Better Schools. Brighter Futures

Imagine a TDSB where all schools share a common core set of characteristics. They are community-driven and focused on teaching and learning. Students and parents have a wide variety of opportunities and there are enough students in every school to increase program choices.

Imagine there is a clear focus on achieving student success and every student is engaged, has a voice, access to a caring adult and the opportunity to develop their full potential.

Here at the TDSB our focus is on student achievement, parent and community engagement and financial stability.
