Land Acknowledgement: "We would like to acknowledge to original peoples of these lands, the Mississaugas of New Credit we also acknowledge the Anishinaabe, the Haudenosaunee, and the Wendat peoples who also called these lands home"

Teaching: "When we acknowledge the original peoples of the lands that we occupy in contemporary spaces, we recognize there is another equally vast, rich and important story that is often ignored and misrepresented. When Elders or Traditional knowledge keepers are invited to do that work, often, their ceremonies and prayers create the intention to acknowledge the spirit of the land, people, and all that nourishes life in those lands, in gratitude for the continued abundance that participants continue to benefit from."
